Call for Abstracts – Nordic Music Therapy Conference

The Organizing Committee and Scientific Committee for the 10th Nordic Music Therapy Conference is happy to announce the call for abstracts for next year's conference.

NMTC 2021, "Music Therapy – Adapting Approaches for Health", will be held in Helsinki, Finland from June 16-19, 2021 at the Helsinki Conservatory of Music. The conference is organized in collaboration with the University of Jyväskylä, the Finnish Society for Music Therapy, and HUS Helsinki University Hospital, Child Psychiatry, University of Helsinki.

The conference aims to highlight the adaptive and unique qualities, possibilities, and benefits of music therapy in our modern reality, while exploring the diverse roles of music therapy on the spectrum of health from preventative to rehabilitative health.

Conference committees are asking for abstract submissions for presentations in the form of paper presentations, poster presentations, workshops, and symposium sessions. The deadline for abstract submission is October 31, 2020. More information can be found at the links, below.
